

TSAA CLOUT ARCHERY TOURNAMENT 2004

Hosted by the Alamo Area JOAD / 4H Archers

WHEN: Sunday, October 24, 2004 from 12noon- 4pm

WHERE: The National NRA Shooting Complex, San Antonio, Texas

(located off 1604 & Hwy 471 or Culebra Rd. – go outside 1604 about 5miles on 471 then follow target signs; see attached MAP or for further directions please call 210-688-3371)

WHAT: Clout is one of the oldest forms of archery. The clout is the job of raining fire down on the enemy, either on the battle field or in the castle. The target shall be on the ground 15 meters or 49.2ft. in diameter with a flag at the center most portion of the target which represents the top of the castle tower. The scoring shall be thus; a hit or direct touch of the clout at the inner most = 5 and at every 1.5meters shall be 4, 3, 2, 1; any archers outside of the 15meter target receives no or a zero score for said arrow.

Archers will stand in a one line across the target area, level with the clout or castle flag. A whistle will blow to commence fire; after all six arrows have been shot for that round they will be scored; once the field is clear of all arrows; fire will commence again until the 6 ends or 36 arrows total have been completed.

COST: $ 15 per archer / ADULTS or YOUTH
